

Next Choice[®]

(Levonorgestrel) Tablets 0.75 mg

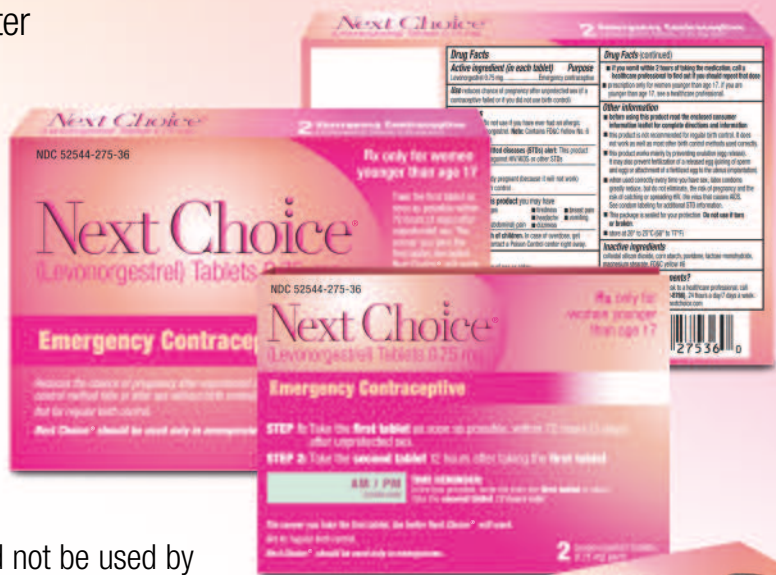

Emergency Contraceptive

For Those Unexpected Times

Dual-Label Dispensing Guide

- Available without a prescription for women age 17 years and older
- Available by prescription only for women younger than 17
- Government issued ID required for age verification
- Stock Next Choice[®] behind pharmacy counter

For more information, please contact our Medical Communications Department at 1-866-9WATSON (1-866-992-8766). Please see full Prescribing Information at www.mynextchoice.com.

Important Safety Information: Next Choice[®] should not be used by women with a known or suspected pregnancy. Women who become pregnant or complain of lower abdominal pain after taking Next Choice[®] should be evaluated for ectopic pregnancy. Next Choice[®] is not effective in terminating an existing pregnancy, and does not protect against STI/HIV. Next Choice[®] may alter the next expected menses, however, if menses is delayed beyond 1 week, pregnancy should be considered. The most common adverse reactions in the clinical trial were menstrual changes (26%), nausea (23%), abdominal pain (18%), fatigue (17%), headache (17%), dizziness (11%), and breast tenderness (11%).